First Sod Turned Saturday

Interesting Ceremony at Memorial Hall Site.

Favoured with splendid weather, the ceremony of turning the first sod of the Strathmore War Memorial Hall was a very successful one, and unique in the annals of the Strathmore district.

Shortly after twelfth on Saturday afternoon the members of Strathmore Great War Veterans Association, to the number of over thirty, headed by Strathmore Brass Band, marched up Second Street in military formation, and lined up on either side of the spot where the ceremony of turning the sod was to be performed.

The speakers, in an order dictated by the Hall Fund by Mr. Joe Van Tichem, occupied the west side of the square, with members of Strathmore Ladies Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A. The east side of the square was taken up by the children of Strathmore Schools, under their teachers, all dressed in white. Outside the square this formed was a large assemblage of the public.

After forming up, the band played "O Canada," the children singing the anthem prettily at the same time. Then, Douglas French, President of Strathmore G.W.V.A., in introducing the first speaker, said they were sure that neither Father Murphy nor Rev. A. D. Currie were able to be present at the ceremony, the former being out of town and the latter being here.

They had with them Rev. T. Phillips, pastor of Strathmore Union Church, and he was going to call upon him to deliver the opening address.

Rev. Phillips' Speech
As a representative of the churches I congratulate the G.W.V.A. on the coming of this happy day, and hope when you are able to inaugurate and with becoming ceremony the building of this Memorial Hall.

Our countrymen has carried the great events of his history with noble monuments of various kinds. I feel sure a simple heap of stones for succeeding generations that follow might say: "What meaneth these stones?"

It is something in these days that we continue this sacred custom. In Plains and fields the poplars grow, between the crosses rise the graves of our fallen heroes. In this homeland we could also seek to perpetuate the memories of our fallen heroes in various ways.

Tablets with the names of our heroes are placed in schools, universities and churches. Marble columns are reared to honor the names of those who built the empire.

Memorial churches and homes have been built to do this honor. It is proposed to build a Memorial Hall as the community honors our brave men who fell in battle. This is the monument which we propose to erect to perpetuate their names in this community. It is a patriotic duty and privilege to this extent the memory and sacrifice of our fallen. Thus we may show our respect, love and memory of the brave deeds of those who fought and fell in the Great War.

The dead have been sacred touch to us, but we must pass it on. Over to the living, let us pass it on. Over to the living, let us pass it on. Over to the living, let us pass it on.

Reeve Shene Delivers Inspiring Address.
The next speaker called on was Mr. Frank Shene, Reeve of the Municipality of Bow Valley, who delivered an inspiring, extensive address. He first recalled the time when he arrived in this district sixteen years ago to do construction and bridge work for the Canadian Pacific railway system. At that time Strathmore was not in existence, and there were very few farms in the district.

and it was practically a baro and tree-less prairie. To have the concourse gathered here today was an index of the development that has taken place in that short time.

If there was any movement that directed the unanimous support of the community of the town and district as a whole it was this Memorial Hall project. In their local country, and in every corner throughout the Dominion, they erected monuments to their dead friends and relatives. Was not their duty to erect a monument from their district, to those boys who had come from their midst and whose bodies lay underneath the sod in France and Flanders. They were entitled to the finest monument that was in their power to erect.

The hall which they were going to perform the initial work that day would be the finest kind of monument they could erect, for it would be used for all their social events, and their meetings of every kind throughout the district. It would be a constant reminder to them of the sacrifices that their boys had made, the sacrifice that was the greatest of all, the sacrifice of life. He was looking to the project himself to the utmost of his ability, the Municipality also was contributing, and he trusted that everyone in the district would look the best persons in their district.

Mayor's Address
Following on Mr. Shene's address, Mr. Frank Shene, Mayor of the Town of Strathmore, was quoted from Mr. Shene's notes as follows:

When Great Britain declared war on Germany it was a war to exterminate a world of colonies and an age. We had to fight because our land and our people obliged us. Prussian Imperialism was an insupportable menace to the world. Immediately after Great Britain's declaration, the overseas dominions, Canada at the head, stood out in unison to the Motherland. "We are coming, we are coming, and we are with you," and thank God there is no sentimentalism in the repeated phrase, "Stand beside the sea."

As for Canada, her instant action was not the action of the Government, but of the people, a people composed of two races, English and French, and it was the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the late Prime Minister, who was ever a peace lover. A later war was waged with immense dislike, the reason of energy from industrial and commercial channels to what he termed militarism and the rivalries of national egotism. Yet it was he who carried his French fellow countrymen with him in the policy of a Navy for Canada, to work with the British Navy in time of war, and hand in hand with Sir Robert Borden, with whom he was always at better odds, he led his followers without prejudice from any quarter in the field of common effort for the Empire.

On August 10th, 1914, Canada offered 20,000 men and 30,000 pounds of flour, and on October 14th of the same year, only a few days after war was declared, the great Armada that took the first Canadian Expeditionary Force, reached Plymouth port, there he led his followers without prejudice from any quarter in the field of common effort for the Empire.

Mr. Lambert believed that there was any deficit when he left office at the end of 1920. If this was the case, he was informed by the secretary of the bank. This let the secretary in, and he explained that there had been a deficit of $15,000, the sinking fund, even though there was none on current account. Mayor Butler said that the deficit he was quoted were not his own, they were from the auditor's report, and they had been published, and were open to inspection at any time.

The Mayor explained that the deficit on the plank sidewalks had been granted to the town, and that he had not paid their taxes, and were reverting to the town. The deficit on the two debentures that the next year was $15,000, and that amount had to be raised. They

Ex-Mayor Voices Protest Re Taxes

At last Tuesday's meeting of Strathmore Town Council a big number of ratepayers were present, and the subject of this year's taxes was brought up by two of their number, ex-Mayor Lambert and Mr. Thos. Eves.

The ordinary business of the Council was concluded early in the evening, and the Mayor asked if there was any ratepayer present who had anything to bring up. There being no response Mayor Butler said that it was a motion for adjournment would be in order.

Mr. Lambert said he understood that he was adjourning some members of the public had something to say. Another call was then made for any member of the public who wished to be heard, but no further response, and the motion for adjournment was again suspended.

The ex-Mayor, like himself, stepped into the breach, and arranged the Council for the amount of the taxes this year, and he said that the taxes were arbitrary, extortionate, and excessive.

This month's bill, he said, he had received several times. He also said there was no call for such a large increase in the amount of the taxes this year, that in a year of financial stress they should endeavor to economize. The mill rate was much higher than in many other towns in the Province. Mr. Thos. Eves then added a protest, mostly directed against what he stated to be the excessive amount charged on property at the north and the taxes on the same property in the same neighborhood. He also objected to the purchase of a truck. The views of the remainder of the ratepayers were not heard to any extent. Mr. Dabson asked of a question, with a desire, as he stated, for information only, while Mr. John Mackenzie stated that the taxes in Strathmore were less than in most of the other towns in the Province, and less than in any town between Calgary and Medicine Hat. The ratepayers would not grudge paying more, they would grudge less. He ordered them all to leave, and as he had a row in the morning and feared they were necessary, except with regard to roads and fire equipment. They did not appear to be an extravagant body personally.

Mr. Lambert charged that statement regarding the taxes, and said he could publish figures showing that Strathmore was taxed higher than any other town in the Province, all at the time of writing those have not been received.

Mayor Butler then took up the objections raised, and said that the reason why the mill rate was higher than it was last year, was that a large number of lots had received to the town, causing the assessment to be lower; that there was a deficit in the sinking funds that had to be made up by next year, when the plank sidewalks and firework debentures became due; that the Council had been asked to raise the amount they assessed for, and consequently that it had been necessary to raise a larger amount this year.

Mr. Lambert believed that there was any deficit when he left office at the end of 1920. If this was the case, he was informed by the secretary of the bank. This let the secretary in, and he explained that there had been a deficit of $15,000, the sinking fund, even though there was none on current account. Good Growing Weather

Fine warm weather, with occasional rains, is bringing the crop along fast, and conditions were never more favorable than they are at present for a big crop.

Seeding is practically completed now. The irrigation water is now turned on, and some farmers are already making use of it for corn crops, etc.

Palmer Acquitted

(On Saturday the jury empaneled to consider the case of George Palmer, charged with shooting Herbert Spielman with intent to kill on 11th October last, returned a verdict "Not Guilty.")

The evidence given showed that Palmer shot in what he considered self-defense, and this plea had weight with the jury. He considered that the other man was going to strike on him if he had not shot first.

The evidence given showed that Palmer shot in what he considered self-defense, and this plea had weight with the jury. He considered that the other man was going to strike on him if he had not shot first.

The case was stated to the jury by Mr. Short, as follows:
A shooting incident was at work on the farm of the accused near Hain tree, on December 11, and the man at work was shooting Palmer for theft of wages, the loss of the outfit having been absorbed by the money due for work on the farm, including $100.

Several of the crew, including Spelman, went to Palmer's home about supper time, where Palmer told them that he was a doctor. He ordered them all to leave, and as he had a row in the morning and feared they were necessary, except with regard to roads and fire equipment. They did not appear to be an extravagant body personally.

Spelman was taken to Rockyford from there to Drumheller, and put in hospital there, where he was for some months.

A CORRECTION

We regret very much a mistake which occurred in the Strathmore Hardware ad, in last issue, $65.00 per pound being the price advertised for hybrid wire, instead of $67.75, which was the price in the copy supplied us by Mr. Foster. We offer our apologies to those customers who applied for the wire at the price quoted, and also to the Strathmore Hardware. The mistake was due to carelessness of the compositor and proofreader. These mistakes do occasionally happen, though we have been singularly free of them, as each advt. is usually checked carefully.

Empire Day Celebrations

Three Baseball Games

Tuesday, May 24, Empire Day, was a gala day for Strathmore, noon, afternoon, and evening being taken up with recreation and sport of various kinds, and the baseball season got off to a good start.

Big Attendance and Good Sport

The proceeds of the whole day were for the benefit of the Baseball Club, and has enabled the Club to wipe out their old indebtedness, and given them a good start financially on the present season.

As we predicted, Hussar brought down a first-class team, and they played the first with our boys in the afternoon game, but in the evening the team was strengthened with some of the old stalwarts, and it was all even game, and was a pretty one to watch, resulting in a tie, 5-5.

The ladies game in the forenoon was unique in Strathmore's history. Both teams were young ladies of the town, and they put up a great struggle, and acquitted themselves well. The teams that formed from the ladies who played the diamond yesterday will be able to make conclusions with any boys' team in the Province.

The amateur concert given in the evening was a great success, the crowd being first-class and the crowd beyond the capacity of the hall. The ladies following was also very well attended.

Strathmore Brass Band played at both afternoon and evening games, and gave very creditable performances on both occasions. They also played for a short time prior to the opening of the concert.

It is only right to give credit largely to Mr. L. B. D. Loomis, who has a large part in the arranging of the programme, and took the initiative in getting the day set aside for a baseball holiday. The other members of the club and players worked hard also, and we hope that the ladies given will carry all the way through the season. Strathmore has a good team this year, and practice all they want.

The Ladies Game
Was well attended, and had lots of sensational features. Mr. Matt May was the star performer, scoring two home runs and putting good hits, while Miss Parrie, who occupied the mound for the other team, also handled the ball well though her support was not as good on the whole as that given by Miss McIntyre, though they made a big tally in the final inning, scoring eleven runs, the final score being 15-15. Little Mary Harwood, who occupied third base, played a wonderful game. There were a number of other good throws, and the ball game is short.

Hussar Wins Afternoon Game
Hussar has a fast and snappy team, and assisted by numerous errors on the part of the other team, they had an easy victory. Willie Gray and Dick Jacobs did their best in the box, but the support they got was weak. Following were the teams:

Evening Game is Good One

The game in the evening made amends for the poor display of the afternoon. Both teams were up to their toes, and the fans their moneyworth in excitement. The game ended in a tie, 5-5, though a run made by Ralph Knight was run out, but the scorekeeper did not have the run recorded.

Larry Brown occupied the box for Strathmore, and Murray Smith a former lugger, did the heavy work for Hussar, and they were both at the top of their form, and few hits were recorded of either.

Hussar brought off three clever double plays. Hussar took the lead in the first inning with two runs, while the home team did not register till the 3rd inning. Getting away strong, the boys then registered three runs, including the one by Ralph Knight.

Concert Follows Game

In the evening a fine amateur concert was held in the Opera House. The house was packed to capacity, and the audience enjoyed every moment of the play. "The Soldier" was the title, and the various artists were as follows: Misses E. Brady, E. Pope, S. Baker, E. Feltie, Messrs Van Buren, Loomis, Latt, Vicars, Moore, and Gray.

Following the performance an enjoyable dance was held, to the strains of Wallon's Calvary Orchestra.

The Baseball Club wish to thank the public for their attendance at the day's games, and also all who gave their services to make the day a success.

Watering Farm Horses

Working Horses Are Frequently Neglected, Which Leads to Serious Results.

Water Moore, a well-known writer, says:

"It is a common thing for farmers to work their horses in the field from morning to night, watering them only at noon. This is done even on days of excessive heat. The driver usually has two or more refreshing drinks in the middle of the morning and again in the afternoon, but the horses, who are equally as thirsty, go without. This want of water is not only excessive, but it causes the horses to drink to excess at noon, and again at night, which often results in colic, and always tends to produce a distended stomach of what farmers call a 'hay belly.' Farmers who would treat their horses humanely should take water into the field for them in hot weather."—Boston Work Horse Relief Association.

Farmers who would treat their horses humanely should take water into the field for them in hot weather."—Boston Work Horse Relief Association.

Water Moore, a well-known writer, says:

"It is a common thing for farmers to work their horses in the field from morning to night, watering them only at noon. This is done even on days of excessive heat. The driver usually has two or more refreshing drinks in the middle of the morning and again in the afternoon, but the horses, who are equally as thirsty, go without. This want of water is not only excessive, but it causes the horses to drink to excess at noon, and again at night, which often results in colic, and always tends to produce a distended stomach of what farmers call a 'hay belly.' Farmers who would treat their horses humanely should take water into the field for them in hot weather."—Boston Work Horse Relief Association.

Eyelet Embroidery Is a Favored Trimming

One of the most interesting developments in the adorning of the new spring frocks and suits is the lavish use of eyelet embroidery.

It is exceedingly effective, as it permits the use of contrasting fabrics which add much to the beauty of the models.

This dress, cut from soft fabric of cotton chiffon is partly veiled by eyelet embroidery. The latter richly embroidered with eyelets, is disposed in bands on the sides of the dress.

The lower part of the corsage is covered with the batiste which is cut in pointed style. A huge sash of chiffon is bowed at the waist, and the long ends become panels that are much longer than the front of the gown.

CARSELAND NEWS & NOTES

The Committee appointed by the Carceland F. B. Club, to look after arrangements for the Red Cross membership drive, met at the home of Mrs. J. Allen on Wednesday afternoon, the 15th, to complete plans. A thorough canvass will be made in the near future when every person will be asked to become a member, and to pay the annual membership fee of one dollar. Considerable pre-campaign literature has been sent out for distribution, in which is set out the aims, etc., of the organization. The Ladies Aid of Blind Creek is being asked to look after the matter in their territory.

The Carceland Board of Trade met in their regular meeting on Monday the 16th, when a fair number of members were in attendance. The first business was the appointment of a Secretary-Treasurer, to succeed Mr. Lawrence who has recently left town. Mr. H. D. Drake was the unanimous choice of those present, and he at once assumed office. Messrs. Pakenham and Cople were appointed auditors to check up the books for the new secretary. The matter of telephones was taken up and it was decided to ask the department, in view of their decision on not placing an exchange in Carceland at this time, to connect up the Blind Creek country with Strathmore exchange. A committee was appointed to look into the matter of a play ground for the children of the village. The committee was asked to report at the next meeting as to cost, location, etc.

Mr. A. O. Myers is now the mail carrier, succeeding Mr. B. Woodhouse. The name of Miss G. A. Addison appears among those attending the exams for fully qualified nurses. Mrs. H. Pakenham and her three children arrived in Carceland on Sunday, the 15th, and are in residence in the Prairie Lumber house. Miss Pakenham is a welcome addition to the citizens of our burg.

Quite a number from Carceland took in the barn dance at Blind Creek on Friday last, and all report "some time."

Among those motoring to Calgary last week were Messrs. Crumney, Dr. man, Cook, Mike Brown and Dr. McKonkey.

Don't forget the Carceland advertisements on this page. Mrs. P. Travis, who has been in the General Hospital for some time returned home on Saturday last. Mr. W. F. Parsons, nephew of Mrs. E. Y. Cook, was a visitor at the Paragon over the week-end and the 21st. The Joint Church Board of the Carceland Circuit, made up of Blind Creek, Dalmeny, and Carceland, met in the church on Monday evening, the 16th, when there were seventeen members present. The work of the year was reviewed and was considered as being extremely satisfactory. The year's budget has been met in full at all three points, though earlier in the year such a result was hardly considered probable. Following the discussion on the provisions for the year of the coming year, beginning the 1st of January, a separate resolution for each of the three divisions was unanimously passed asking for no change in the present arrangements of the work, and for a return of the present pastor to the circuit.

Fred Row and Sam Nelson are again the brand new Ford cars. On Wednesday afternoon Gladys Crumney was hostess to a number of her young friends, the occasion being the fifth birthday.

Hans Lansen is the proud possessor of a big trout, almost two feet long, which he caught in the Carceland stream. The successful fisherman was in operation at D. M. Robinson's place.

Mr. Sidney is the painter on W. L. Brown's house. Clean up and paint up seems to be the slogan in Carceland these days.

Just when Mr. Royal had finished their clean up, the wind storm came to the rescue of the rest of the town and incidentally transferred much of an undesirable quality to the clean East end.

There are two families in town who have stated their preference for ground floor living quarters during the wind storm.

BLIND CREEK NEWS

The dance held in the barn of Mr. G. Mare on Friday evening last under the auspices of the ladies of the community, was, in every sense, a success. The music supplied by the orchestra from Bladale was good and the crowd enjoyed every number. The lunch was voted as being the best yet. The proceeds are to go towards the new piano, and amounted to $125.00. The new piano arrived in time for the dance and was taken out by Mr. W. C. Phillips. The storm of the previous day and night did not in any way affect the attendance as the spirit of those present, unless it was in speed taking up some.

ARDENODE NOTES

Mrs. Freeman spent last week-end in Strathmore. The local U.F.W.A. meeting held at the home of Mrs. Sealey was well attended and a good time was had by all. The time was devoted to work for the bazaar.

The next meeting of the U.F.W.A. will be held on Wednesday night. This will be a business meeting and all are asked to attend. The school children have all finished making their gardenias for week.

Mrs. T. Chamberlain was a Calcutta visitor last week. The school children and all the women folk in this neighborhood, if the weather permits.

were putting on an additional three mill rate this year and next year to cover this, and would also apply moneys received from sale of lots reverted to the town for the same purpose. The total amount that had to be raised this year for town and school purposes was $182,000, of which $250,000 would come from the rural part of the district. The remainder would be raised on a town assessment of $120,000, which was very low.

Councillor Marshall said he compared that taxes were low as compared with other towns in the province. Most of the towns in the Province were now putting on business taxes and 40 per cent. taxes on improvements. If they delayed in their deliberations next year they would have to do this also, and they would have their taxes higher than the 40 per cent. than they were now.

The discussion continued for some time longer, but the objection did not seem to have any figures to back up their statements, and consequently the Council did not receive from this position.

Renew Your Membership In The RED CROSS

During the war everybody gave to the Red Cross. In these Western Provinces, hundreds of thousands of citizens joined in the greatest flood of gifts ever poured through a single voluntary organization.

Because the need was vital, the emergency ever pressing, there was little formality of membership. Everybody belonged to and was a part of the war-time organization of the Red Cross.

Red Cross now has peace-time duties just as important to humanity as its greatest service of devotion in time of war. The Red Cross Societies of the world have leagued together in a broad-gauge, carefully planned continuous campaign—

For the Improvement of Health, the Prevention of Disease and the Mitigation of Suffering Throughout the World.

This work is to be carried out at home, right here in our own country by our own Red Cross and simultaneously in every one of the thirty-one countries associated in the World League of Red Cross Societies. The Red Cross peace-time crusade for good health is separate and distinct from the war work of the Red Cross or the great task that it is still carrying on, growing out of its care of those who suffered in the war. To endorse, support and carry on its peace programme the Red Cross asks the approval of every citizen through the enrolment of his or her individual membership. The Membership Fee is $1.00 per year. The payment of this dollar when you enroll your name is all the money the Red Cross is asking of you.

A LIVE NEWSPAPER

The function of a local newspaper is to publish the news of the district in which it circulates. A newspaper which does this is a necessity in every home throughout that district. Everyone living in this Western Bow Valley District should keep himself in touch with the doings of the community. From a business point of view, too, you need the Standard. You are losing opportunities of saving, each week you go without it. Again it is an independent newspaper, and for that reason also deserves your support. $2.00 is the cost of a year's subscription to the Standard, payable in advance. you are losing every week you go without the Standard as a visitor in your home.

Advertising

To every business within the Western Bow Valley Irrigation Block the Standard provides a means of getting in touch with present and prospective customers. It costs less to advertise in the Standard than to regularise the public in any other way, and THE STANDARD GOES HOME, whilst the circular is apt in very many cases to be left in the Post Office or dropped on the street.

A business man to succeed must advertise. Newspaper advertising yields the best results of any kind, if you really have something to sell that the public wants, and you keep your ads, readable and up-to-date.

The farmer can use a Standard want ad. to advantage. Our miscellaneous ad. columns are read by every subscriber every week.

Many business men are using the columns of the Standard, and find them effective in bringing results. If you are not now advertising, get us on the phone or write, and we will send rate card and full particulars.

Job Printing

Having a modern and well-equipped plant, comprising over $8,000 worth of machinery, with type-setting machine, power presses, etc., we can handle any kind of printing at prices equal to any city house, and the quality of our work is always guaranteed. In loyalty to your own district, and to your own best interests, never give a job to a travelling man, until you get our prices.

Turning First Sod

tion of Canada, has the honor of sending as many of its best with the Canadian Forces.

Of those who went a great number will never return. The numerous cases of sacrifice mark their last resting place in France, and in Flanders where Canadian Soldiers sleep. We should not mourn them too much, for a crowded hour of glorious life is worth an age without a name, but to the mother, what did we hope for him we loved? With unbroken head, from across the sea the farthest of the dead, the dead who died for you, greet them again with fond words and grave, for, saving you, themselves they could not save.

With what we have done as a nation, in fighting for our freedom and our rights, the sacrifice in which every Canadian family has endured, what more can we do to cherish within our memories our great and glorious victory and to erect our memorial hall in due respect and gratitude for those who so bravely fought and died for such a noble cause.

Hall for the Public Benefit

Lieutenant French, in his closing remarks, said that there had been a misconception among some people that this hall was being erected for the benefit of the veterans. This was not so. It was being built for the purpose of a Memorial and a Public Hall. The charges made for meetings would be as low as was possible, to meet the upkeep cost, and it would be available for every public function. The car he and the others were sitting in had been donated by Mr. Jos. Van Tighem, and would be refitted on. Tickets could be obtained at some of the local stores, from one-cent to five dollars.

Turning the First Sod

The ceremony of turning the first sod was then performed in a workmanlike manner by the Rev. and Major and chorists. Then Miss Mary Ellen Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, marched across the site and laid the first sod. The flagpole covered a roughly six days previous. The flagpole which the National Anthem is to be sung while standing in attention, flanked later the flag was hoisted, the crowd gave three cheers and a cheer, and the ceremony was completed.

Miss Martin was selected by the honor of holding the flag on account of her brother William having been killed on the Somme in 1916 at the age of eighteen.

Active Work Commenced
Early on Monday morning the contractor Mr. M. S. Hurtle had a number of men and teams on the job digging out the basement and foundations. The gravel should arrive Thursday, and the lumber which is being shipped from the coast in special cars through the Crown Lumber Co. is expected to be on the ground in ten days time. It is hoped to have the building ready for opening by July 15, Peace Day, and a big celebration is being arranged.

Subscriptions Wanted
While the veterans have a large sum on hand additional funds will be required to finish the building. The building itself will cost $125,000, but with furniture, lighting, furnishings, etc. will approximate $175,000 to $180,000.

Besides its purpose as a Memorial Hall, the building will be a great asset to the district, and a much-wanted public utility. Subscription will be taken by any member of the Great War Veterans Association, by the Secretary-Treasurer of the Memorial Hall Fund, Mr. H. H. Forward, at Burke & Craddock's store, and at least stores, etc.

Lethbridge, Alta. Of the estimated acreage of 1,700,000 acres under cultivation in Southern Alberta, this year, 1,200,000 will be in wheat, 250,000 in oats, 65,000 in barley, 25,000 in flax and 16,000 in hay.
